6.4 Integrity of Financial Reporting

The Board ensures that a structure of review and authorisation is designed to ensure the truthful and factual presentation of MNT's financial position and performance.

9. DIRECTOR'S DUTY STATEMENT

9.1 Legal

Directors are required to understand the needs of MNT and their legal responsibilities as Directors.

Certain duties apply to a Director in every aspect of MNT and to every transaction MNT enters into. Directors are regarded as owing a fiduciary duty to MNT. This means that a Director has special obligations to MNT because they occupy a position of trust. As a result of the fiduciary relationship between the Director and MNT, the Director is bound to exercise their rights and powers in good faith and for the benefit of MNT.

In very broad terms, the principle statutory and common law duties imposed upon Directors may be summarised as follows:

- (a) To act honestly and in good faith in the interests of MNT as a whole;*
- (b) To exercise the degree of care, skill and diligence that a reasonable person in a like position would exercise in MNT's circumstances;*
- (c) To exercise powers granted honestly and for the purposes for which they were conferred and not for collateral purposes;*
- (d) To avoid any actual or potential conflict between the obligations owed to MNT and a Director's personal interest or other duties;*
- (e) To keep confidential information obtained, and not to disclose advantage or business opportunities acquired, in the course of office;*
- (f) To prevent insolvent trading by MNT.*

9.1.1. General Duties of Good Faith and Care

a) Duty of Good Faith and Honesty

Directors are given broad discretions to govern MNT's business under the Constitution of MNT. The duty of good faith applies to the discretion and decisions of Directors.

The duty of good faith and honesty arises at common law partly (as with most of the other common law duties of Directors) because Directors are regarded as being in a position of trust with respect to MNT.

In this context, the duty of honesty is equivalent to the duty to act for a proper purpose. If a Director's purpose is misguided or improper, the Director will breach the duty even though there is no question of personal gain or dishonesty in the generally understood sense. Accordingly, a Director can be dishonest without being fraudulent.

Principally, therefore, this duty requires Directors to consider the interests of the members of MNT as a whole.

This may involve considering whether the short term or long-term interest of Members should be paramount.

In circumstances of insolvency or near insolvency, the duty to act in the best interests of Members is overridden by a duty to act in the best interests of creditors

b) Duty to Act for a Proper Purpose (and not for a collateral purpose)

Since Directors of MNT are fiduciary agents, powers given to Directors may only be exercised for the purposes for which they are given. In particular, those powers may not be exercised in order for the Directors to obtain a private advantage.

Whether a particular act by Directors as fiduciaries, is a bona fide exercise of their power for the benefit of MNT as a whole is generally determined by ascertaining the substantial motivating purpose for which the power is exercised and then by determining whether that purpose was proper or not.

c) Duty of Care, Skill and Diligence

The duty of care, skill and diligence is a subjective duty, so that essentially recklessness was (and possibly still is) required to amount to a breach. That is, to breach the duty, a Director must be reckless in exercising his or her office.

Proper performance of the duties of a Director will be dictated by all the surrounding circumstances including the type of organisation, the size and nature of its enterprise, the composition of its Board and the distribution of its work between the Directors and other officers.

The following are some of the broad principles which are relevant in the determination of whether a Director has fulfilled his or her duty of care, skill and diligence to MNT. Although the list is not exhaustive, the common law requires that Directors at least:

- i. take reasonable steps to place themselves in a position to guard and monitor the management of MNT;*
- ii. acquire a working knowledge of the fundamentals of the business of MNT;*
- iii. keep informed about the activities of MNT and assess the safety and properness of the business practices of management;*
- iv. generally monitor MNT affairs and policies, although a detailed inspection of day-to-day activities need not be undertaken;*
- v. maintain a familiarity of the financial status of MNT by regularly reviewing the financial statements; and*
- vi. make enquiry into matters revealed by the financial statements which call for enquiry*

9.1.2. Duties and Obligations Relating to Conflicts of Interest

a) Duty to Avoid Conflict of and Disclose Interests

Neither a Director nor responsible officer should allow a conflict of interest to compromise their position in MNT. A Directors “personal” interest (for example, a shareholding in another company) or other duties (for example, being a board member of a Club) and their duty to MNT must not be brought into conflict.

This overlaps with the duty to act in good faith and for a proper purpose. Categories of situations which give rise to conflicts of interest are:

i. Directors or officers taking advantage of opportunity

The general rule is that a Director must not use his or her position to make a profit. If he or she does, then he or she must account to MNT for the profit made.

ii. Directors taking advantage of an opportunity where MNT is unable

A Director has an obligation not to profit personally from his or her position as a Director, and not to allow a conflict to arise between his or her duty as a Director and his or her own self-interest.

A Director is disqualified from usurping for his or her own benefit or for the benefit of others, a maturing business opportunity which MNT is actively pursuing.

A Directors liability to account to MNT is not unlimited and depends upon the facts of the case. It is not a defence that the profits or advantage were made with the informed consent of MNT.

iii. Directors contracts with MNT

The general rule is that contracts made by a Director with MNT that are not approved by the board, excluding the Director in question (who is conflicted) are voidable at the option of MNT. This includes contracts in which Directors have an indirect interest. The fairness of the contract is irrelevant, and this is applied as a strict rule.

The contract may be validated by ratification at a general meeting, provided there is full disclosure.

iv. Conflict of external duties with Directors duties

Where a Director holds an office or property, which creates duties in conflict with his or her duties as a Director of MNT, they should declare the interest at the next meeting of the Board after they become aware of the conflict.

b) Confidential Information

Directors have a duty not to make unauthorised disclosure or use of MNT information and a duty not to disclose or exploit confidential information, such as commercially or price sensitive information or information which is confidential by virtue of a contractual arrangement.

Information is commercially sensitive where it is of specific value to the group concerned, particularly where its disclosure would allow others to “reap without sowing” or would otherwise be detrimental to MNT. In the context of MNT, this would involve any information that is of value to MNT in the sense that its disclosure might cause damage to MNT’s reputation, or disclose plans which MNT would not want revealed to its competitors or third parties.

Directors of MNT should not reveal any discussions or meetings or documents relating to policies or plans in their initial stages without the consent of the other members of the Board.

Practicality and convenience must be taken into account. The MNT Board should at the very least be informing its members of the major decisions, which it has made and report on the reasons for these decisions. The Board is justified in not disclosing all its activities on the basis that in doing so it is acting in the interests of MNT, by preventing information which may be detrimental to it from being revealed and potentially distorted.

Directors must remember that they have a duty to act in the interests of MNT as a whole, which includes the interests of all members and not select members or groups of members.

Directors should support all determinations of the Board regardless of their support or dissent during the Board meeting. It is essential that discussions of the Board are freely entered into. However, it is imperative that beyond the meetings of the Board all Directors are united in the determination of the Board.

c) Duty not to Divert Corporate Opportunities

Misuse by a Director of MNT property so as to make a personal gain or gain for any other person (for example, a company in which the Director has an interest) without the authority of MNT is a clear breach of a Director’s fiduciary obligation. This duty is also reflected in the Corporations Act which requires a Director not to make improper use of his or her position (as a Director) to gain, directly or indirectly, an advantage for himself or herself or any other person or to cause detriment to the company.

9.2 Financial

The Corporations Act requires organisations to keep financial records for seven years that correctly record and explain their transaction and financial position and performance. The financial records must enable true and fair financial statements to be prepared and they must be able to be audited annually.

At the end of the financial year a report which consists of financial statements – profit and loss statement, balance sheet and statement of cash flows, disclosures and notes and the Directors declaration – must be produced as part of statutory duties.

Directors must make sure MNT's accounting and reporting processes are timely and accurate as well as ensuring that other reporting conditions with government grants are met.

Directors are responsible to the Members for the management of the funds of MNT and it is important that Directors monitor MNT's financial situation. Financial literacy is a skill that all Directors must have or acquire as quickly as possible.

9.2.1. Identify Key Risks

A critical role for Directors is to identify the key risks which face MNT and respond to situations as they arise to ensure a minimal adverse impact on the operation of MNT. Each Director will need to agree to what form reporting should take, such as whether specific indicators are developed and monitored and whether the key risks are separately reported on.

9.2.2. Monitoring Performance

Directors must monitor performance and ensure that the end of financial year responsibility when the Directors declaration is signed on the resolution of the Board, it is given serious consideration, and professional assistance is sought if necessary.

9.2.3. Creditors

The ability of MNT to be able to pay its debts as and when they fall due and payable is a key responsibility of Directors, individually, and as a Board.

Directors must monitor cash flow to ensure MNT can pay its debts and may be held personally liable for any future obligations entered into if insolvency occurs. The law expects Directors to consider MNT's cash position in terms of all creditors – those to whom you owe money – suppliers, ATO and employee entitlements and any contracts in place.

Directors need to reassess budgets in terms of whether there are any specific risks looming such as a significant drop in funding or legal action which could be enough to take MNT close or into insolvency.

If the Board is concerned that MNT cannot pay its debts as and when they fall due and the situation is verified by an accountant, it should seek immediate legal advice as to required next steps, which will likely include voluntary administration or winding up.

9.2.4. Business Expenses

Business expenses are costs reasonably incurred by employees and Directors in the course of carrying out their duties (e.g. travel, accommodation, entertainment, representation, car parking).

Business expenses may only be reimbursed if permitted by, and in accordance with, the Reimbursement Policy

10. CEO LIMITATION POLICY

10.1 Legal Power to Manage

Subject to the Constitution, applicable legislation and any policy directive of the Board, the CEO has the broad power to perform all such things as appear necessary or are required for the proper management, operations and administration of MNT.

10.2 Unity of Control
